DIRECTOR LLOYD TO GIVE COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS AT GREENWOOD COUNTY COLLEGE

The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division's (SLED) Director Reggie Lloyd will be the esteemed Spring 2009 commencement speaker at Piedmont Technical College in Greenwood County.

The graduation ceremony is scheduled for 7 o'clock tomorrow night, May 21, 2009 at The Greenwood Civic Center located at 1610 Highway 72-221 East.

Director Lloyd says, "When these students put their degrees to work, they will better the lives of your families in South Carolina. The slumping economy has taken a toll on the job market however several of these students have already found employment in this state. Some students have worked in previous careers, but due to lay-offs were forced go back to school and learn another field. That is hard work at its best."

Piedmont Technical College's President, Dr. Ray Brooks says, "Director Lloyd is a leader in South Carolina. He has an extremely respectable background. Lloyd has accomplished so many remarkable things in his career. We are honored to have him as part of the spring commencement."

Close to 500 students will receive certificates and associates degrees in a variety of studies including, criminal justice, health sciences, teaching, business and agriculture.
